Plainview, New York, June 24, 2015 – Intellidyne® announced the formation of Intellidyne Canada, based in Toronto, Ontario naming Adam Pace as its Managing Director. With the additional outlet, Intellidyne Canada will market Intellidyne manufactured controls to governmental, multifamily, and industrial buildings. Pace already has strong relationships with major gas and electric utilities in Canada and has established a number of utility incentive programs for Canadian customers with Intellidyne controls in their facilities.

Intellidyne is excited to have Adam Pace heading Intellidyne Canada. Mike Ruff, COO of Intellidyne, says, “Adam’s experience and strong relationships in the industry are valuable assets that allow for immediate sales traction in the Canadian Market.” He continues, “Intellidyne Canada will provide Intellidyne with a greater visibility and a local presence to better serve the Canadian Market.”

Intellidyne Canada will work closely with governmental, quasi-governmental, and non-profit energy efficiency service providers to expand the Intellidyne brand in Canada. Managing Director Adam Pace states, “We are very excited about our partnership with Intellidyne! With so many Canadian businesses aiming to improve upon the energy efficiency of their buildings, Intellidyne economizers provide an easy way to implement a low cost option that significantly reduces energy and carbon emissions. Not only are the economizers an effective standalone solution for businesses, but we are also finding that engineering firms are clamoring to include the technology as part of larger energy retrofit projects they are doing for clients.”
